1. INTRODUCTION

This document serves as the requirement of the IPP Office for the study to be undertaken by a team of consultants appointed by the DBSA to review and recommend an alternative procurement and evaluation model for the existing Renewable Energy IPP Procurement Programme (REIPPPP).

The study will be funded by a grant from KfW to support the IPP Office and administered by the DBSA. The Scope of Work (SOW) is described in this document. The requirements as specified in this document are to be followed for developing proposals by respondents.

2. BACKGROUND

In November 2010 the Department of Mineral Resources and Energy (DMRE), National Treasury and the Development Bank of Southern Africa (DBSA) entered into a Memorandum of Agreement and established the Independent Power Producer Office (IPP Office). The primary mandate of the IPP Office is to procure electrical energy from the private sector for renewable and non-renewable energy sources.

The IPP Office is guided by the long term policies and development plans of the country in the roll out of its procurement plans, but in particular the Integrated Resources Plan (IRP) and supporting Ministerial Determinations to action and implement the various procurement programmes.

Focusing on renewable energy, from 2011, with the launch of the first auction, to date 6 422MW of electricity had been procured from 112 renewable energy Independent Power Producers (IPPs) in seven bid rounds. A high level of success has been achieved with only a 1% fall out rate of projects not reaching Financial Close. This can be attributed to the two stage auction model and the stringent and extensive qualification and evaluation criteria.

The latest IRP (2019) that was promulgated in October 2019 calls for 37 696MW of new generation capacity to be added between 2019 and 2030 from a diverse mix of technologies the majority of which is to come from renewable energy sources. Over the period a total of 20 400MW of Wind and Solar photovoltaic (PV) power should be procured through the IPP Office auction model.

The South African REIPPPP has attracted wide interest from the market and the various procurement windows have been extensively oversubscribed. This has placed a financial burden on the IPP Office as the cost of the evaluation is not proportional to the amount of megawatt procured, in particular given the fact that the IP Office is self-funded and the only revenue stream is the development fees from projects that reach financial close.

For the private sector, due to the extensive nature of the qualification and evaluation criteria it is also expensive to participate in the REIPPPP.

Given the status of the SA economy and the lack of economic growth, energy as enabling factor needs to be procured at the cheapest tariff possible. A streamlined auction process could reduce the cost of the bidding process for the IPP Office, but also reduce development costs for bidders that will be reflected in more affordable tariffs for the consumer. An urgent review of the procurement model and the evaluation process is required to improve cost effectiveness and efficiency.

3. RATIONALE

The institutionalization of the IPP Office, the mature status of the REIPPPP, as well as that of the market provide an opportune time to relook the procurement and evaluation model utilized by the IPP Office.

- The South African renewable energy market has reached a sufficient level of maturity. The market is robust, with a large number of local and international participants, which allows for sufficient competition. There is a high level of understanding and familiarity with the Qualification and Evaluation Criteria of the tender process.
- The institutionalization of the IPP Office and maintaining a financially sustainable institution will necessitate a more effective and prudent use of financial resources. The IPP Office cannot sustain the present expensive auction models and needs to look at more cost effective auctions
- A more cost effective model could facilitate a wider use of the IPP Office procurement capacity such as other spheres of government.

The existing REIPP Procurement Programme Auction Model is a Single Stage but two phased auction model. The present model is:

- Expensive due to large number of external evaluators involved – approximately 113 highly qualified external advisers to assess 70 to 110 bids, which resulted in an average of more than R500 000 evaluation cost per bid.
- Time consuming – due to the fact that the evaluation entails a two phased approach; first a Qualification Round followed by clarifications and then the Evaluation Round. Typically the Evaluation Phase will take approximately two months from Bid Submission to the announcement of Preferred Bidders.

- Several other bottlenecks in the external environment also impact on the procurement process prior to the release of the RFP in terms of obtaining stakeholder sign off and government approvals and post Preferred Bidder announcement in pursuance of Commercial Close. The scope in addressing these issues through an improved auction model might not be applicable or fall without the scope of this study.
- Not conducive to build a pipeline of projects. There is no list of active projects (MW available, technology, connection timelines, etc), which can assist in a fast response type auction should the need arises.

The existing model does have certain features which resulted in the acclaimed success of the programme:

- Internationally acclaimed as a fair, transparent process with high level of integrity;
- Stringent qualification criteria ensured high level of realization; successful project construction and grid connection;
- Sufficient competition for a well-functioning price formation;
- It has successfully prevented undesired incentives, collusion and other market distortions; and
- It is aligned with Government policies not only for energy generation but also in terms of pursuing broader socio-economic objectives.

Within the context of the above mentioned, the rationale for the review of the procurement model and the evaluation process is paramount, however the challenge will be to decide if any of the success factors can be relaxed or do away with in achieving a cost effective efficient but still internationally acclaimed model.

4. PURPOSE AND REQUIREMENT

The purpose of the scope of work is to facilitate the review of the procurement model and the evaluation process of the REIPPPP, to provide an alternative model and an accompanying implementation plan to improve cost effectiveness and efficiency, but still ensure a programme of a high standard.

The objectives are to provide the IPP Office with:

- A comprehensive study and recommendations based on international best practice of an alternative auction model:

- An Implementation and roll out plan that includes inter alia the supporting business processes and procedures, infrastructure, resource requirements and cost analysis for the recommended auction model.

The IPP Office is looking to procure the services of a suitably experienced expert or team of experts to undertake the study and recommend a suitable option to the IPP Office.

The work will be undertaken in collaboration with the Department of Mineral Resources and Energy and it is anticipated that a Steering Committee headed by the IPP Office will be established to guide and engage on the work as it progresses and will also sign off on the final deliverables.

5. SCOPE OF WORK

The following detailed issues should be included in the report and implementation plan:

5.1 Diagnostic review of the present Procurement Process with specific emphasis on the Evaluation Phase.

- a. Review of the current procurement process from the issuance of the RFP to the Commercial Close of projects with the objective to identify bottlenecks:
 - i. Specific emphasis should be placed on the Evaluation Phase which is in particular the subject of the auction review and within the control of the IPP Office. The Evaluation Phase commences with the release of the RFP in the market and end with the appointment of the Preferred Bidders.
 - ii. To ensure a complete review of the Procurement Process the full process from RFP drafting to Commercial Close should be reviewed to ensure where possible, if it is within the IPP Office's control, improvements can be introduced.

5.2 Environmental scan – auction formats in the energy space.

- a. What are the different auction models out there? What are the key design features of these models?
- b. What are the success/ failure factors?
- c. How do the different auction formats ensure successful closure (grid connection) of the preferred bidders? What is the fall out rate of these models?
 - i. How do they ensure a consistent pipeline of projects if there is a high fall out rate?

- ii. How do they prevent a high fall out rate? What are the backup measures implemented such as Reserve Bidder lists, high Bid Bond Costs that government can call on and what are the success of these measures?
- d. What are the supporting structures, policy measures and incentives in place to assist project implementation and closure (grid connection)?

5.3 Options for an Alternative Auction model for the IPP Programme

- a. What are the design elements and implementation factors that should be considered for a successful auction model in the SA context;
 - i. Also taking into consideration developments in the energy market and future role of the IPP Office.
 - ii. Due cognizance should be given to the South African procurement policies and regulations.
- b. Provide alternative Auction Options that include:
 - i. Design factors;
 - ii. Alternative auction and Bidding formats;
 - iii. Tender documents, Qualification, evaluation criteria, Role of Bid Bonds;
 - iv. Critical success factors and potential risks;
 - v. Supporting business processes and procedures; and
 - vi. Resource and Cost implications.
- c. This should include a risk management framework and timeline for each of the options identified.

5.4 Implementation Plan

- a. Providing an Implementation Plan for the selected model including:
 - i. an analysis of all required supporting business processes and procedures, supporting infrastructure and resource requirements;
 - ii. timelines and cost analysis; and
 - iii. rollout plan.

6. CRITERIA FOR PROPOSALS

Proposals need to clearly state the following information:

- Understanding of the required SOW;
- Experience in the energy sector and in particular exposure and knowledge of international methods of procurement and auctions in the renewable sector;
- Applicable experience of the team of resources;
- Deliverables (including timelines and cost per deliverable);
- The table below is indicative of the deliverables, timeframes and must be completed stating the resource experience and cost.

Deliverable from Advisors	Timeline	Resources assigned and relevant experience	Cost
Study and recommendations.
First draft	January 2024
Final report	March 2024
Implementation Plan and Road Map
First draft	April 2024
Final report	May 2024
Total (Exc. Vat)

- Resources, rates per person and hours allocated. Note that all resource cost need to roll-up to a deliverable;
- Disbursements: as per standard IPP Policy.

7. DELIVERABLE ACCEPTANCE CRITERIA

Deliverables will only be paid once accepted by the IPP Office. The following deliverable acceptance criteria will apply prior to accepting a deliverable as final:

- Project Manager review;
- Presentation to Steering Committee;
- KfW representative sign off;
- Should rework be required, the deliverable will be returned to the TA;
- The TA will distribute a revision update for review as described above.

8. IPP OFFICE COST MANAGEMENT

The Transaction Advisor (TA) will invoice in accordance with the SOW and their proposals.

The following should also be clearly noted on the supporting documentation:

- The PO number,
- Deliverables and cost per deliverable (deliverables need to be stated exactly as per the PO).
- Deliverable document number,
- Resources and rate/hr; and
- Expenses incurred.

The DBSA policy applies taking into consideration any other requirements from KfW as the grant provider.

TA must also note the following IPP Office requirements:

1. Approved POs are required for the rendering of any service by a third party or TA. No work instruction may be issued without an approved PO;
2. TAs assumes the risk when performing work without a PO or in excess of an approved PO amount, not the IPP Office.
3. TAs can only sub-contract with prior approval from the DBSA. On agreement, POs will be issued to the contracted firm only.
4. PO requests need to be accompanied by a written SOW with a focus on deliverables and a formal proposal from the relevant TA in line with the SOW issued. Rates as per the DBSA contract and hours assigned to the deliverable need to be stipulated and deliverables clearly indicated. The budget owner is required to sign-off on PO requests.
5. Full payment of an invoice is dependent on IPP Office approval/acceptance of deliverables. TA invoices for work completed needs to reach the IPP Office for processing within a period of three months after submission/acceptance of deliverables.
6. Invoices received prior to the 1st working day of any month will be paid by the first Friday of the following month. Payment may be another month later if received after the 1st working day.
7. Invoices need to be accompanied by detailed timesheets and receipts for reimbursements. Travel claims needs to be aligned to the travel policy.
