26.5 THIRD STAGE: FINANCIAL OFFER AND PREFERENCE

- i. Those Bidders which have passed the initial stages of the tender Process will be scored on the basis of price and preference point allocation in accordance with the applicable legislation.
- ii. The successful Bidder will be the Bidder that scores the highest number of points in the second stage of the Bid evaluation, unless the DBSA exercises its right to cancel the RFP.
- iii. Points will be allocated to Bidders at this stage of the evaluation, as follows:

Price points 80
 Specific Goals (namely, BBBEE status level of contributor) 20

iv. Price points

The following formula will be used to calculate the points for price:

$$Ps = 80(1-(Pt-Pmin)/Pmin)$$

Where:

- P_s = Points scored for comparative price of tender or offer under consideration;
- P_t = Comparative price of tender or offer under consideration; and
- P_{min} = Comparative price of lowest acceptable tender or offer.

v. Preferential procurement points

A maximum of 20 points may be awarded in respect of preferential procurement, which points must be awarded to a tenderer for attaining their B-BBEE Status Level in accordance with the table below:

B-BBEE Status Level	Number of Points

3	14
6	6
7	4
Non-compliant contributor	0

An unincorporated trust, consortium or joint venture will qualify for points for their B-BBEE status level as an unincorporated entity, provided that the entity submits their consolidated B-BBEE scorecard as if they were a group structure and that such a consolidated B-BBEE scorecard is prepared for every separate Bid.

Total

The total points scored by each Bidder will be calculated by adding the points scored for price (out of 80) to the points scored for specific goals (out of 20). The successful Bidder will be the Bidder which has the highest total points (out of 100) for both price and specific goals (unless there is a basis for selecting a different successful Bidder).

26.6 FOURTH STAGE: RISK ANALYSIS & OTHER OBJECTIVE CRITERIA

- a) Firstly, in addition to the financial offer and preference evaluation, the Tenderers having the highest ranking / number of points, shall additionally be reviewed against the following points listed as “Other Objective Criteria” in terms of the PPR2022, in order to ascertain suitability for award – we reserve the right to clarify any aspects listed hereunder where applicable.
- i) If having passed Responsiveness, the tenderer shall again be checked in terms of having a Compliant Tax Status at time of recommendation to confirm that the status has not changed, based on an active and Tax Complaint Pin issued by the South African Revenue Services.
 - ii) Fully compliant and registered with the National Treasury Central Supplier Database.
 - iii) No misrepresentation in the tender information submitted.
 - iv) The tenderer or any of its directors/shareholders is not listed on the Register of Tender Defaulters in terms of the Prevention and Combating of Corrupt Activities Act of 2004 as a person prohibited from doing business with the public sector; and
 - v) The tenderer has completed the Compulsory Enterprise Questionnaire and there are no conflicts of interest which may impact on the tenderer’s ability to perform the contract in the best interests of the employer or potentially compromise the tender process and persons in the employ of the state are permitted to submit tenders or participate in the contract.
 - vi) Convicted by a court of law for fraud and corruption.
 - vii) Removed from a contract between them and any organ of state on account of failure to perform on or comply with the contract.
 - viii) Any bidder who has had a tender award terminated by the DBSA for non-performance during the 18 months preceding the closing date of this RFP will not be eligible for award under this RFP. In addition, any bidder who has received a written notice of non-performance in the twelve-month period preceding the award of this RFP, may in the discretion of the DBSA, be excluded from recommendation for further awards until the non-performance, or the circumstance giving rise to the non-performance, has been remedied to the satisfaction of the DBSA.

- ix) Financial health of the bidder may be assessed if deemed necessary, to ensure that the service provider shall be able to operate as per required deliverables (Ratios: Accounts Receivable & Payable Turnover, Liquidity & Solvency).
- x) Unduly high or unduly low Tendered rates in the Tender offer. In this regard, a financial risk analysis will be performed to verify that the costs are reasonable and balanced. Tenders may be disqualified if tendered rates are found to be distorted. The market average of received bid prices excluding Outliers, as well as the DBSA QS estimate will be used as a guide to indicate financial risk (CIDB Inform Practice Note #5).
- xi) PEP Check and Procure Check to be initiated and if negative, may result in exclusion.
- xii) Online verification of the Professional Registration Document will be actioned only to confirm the authenticity of the document.
- xiii) The DBSA reserves the right to request a bidder to provide formal documented evidence within 48hrs (independent from bidder, e.g. employer), to prove authenticity of the documents and its content, failing which will result in bid being deemed non-responsive. Such evidence must include a contactable reference via email and telephone.
- xiv) The DBSA reserves the right to request a bidder to provide formal documented evidence within 48hrs (independent from bidder; e.g. employer), to prove authenticity of the documents and its content, failing which will result in bid being deemed non-responsive. Such evidence must include a contactable reference via email and telephone.

PART D: TERMS OF REFERENCE & PROJECT BRIEF

TERMS OF REFERENCE
RFP055/2026: Appointment of an Individual Professional Service Provider (PSP) to undertake Mining Distribution and Analysis of Spatialised Data for the Spatial Economic Activity South Africa (SEAD-SA) Project

1. PURPOSE

The purpose of the terms of reference is to appoint a service provider to extract, analyse, and spatialise firm-level and employment data housed within the National Treasury's Secure Data Facility (NT-SDF) to improve the quality and accessibility of economic intelligence available to South Africa's municipalities

2. INTRODUCTION

2.1. The Cities Support Programme (CSP), located within the Intergovernmental Relations division of the National Treasury, is a change agent working to improve the capacity of cities while creating a coordinated and enabling intergovernmental fiscal system and policy environment to support city-led transformation, supporting improved spatial transformation and more inclusive economic growth.

2.2. South Africa's metropolitan municipalities are central to the country's economic and social future. Although they occupy only a small portion of national land, the eight metros collectively generate more than two-thirds of all formal jobs, making them the core drivers of national growth. With more than 71% of South Africans expected to live in cities by 2030 (and nearly 80% by 2050), the performance of metropolitan economies will increasingly shape the country's development trajectory (SEAD-SA, 2024).

2.3. Despite their importance, city regions continue to face structural constraints that suppress productivity and limit inclusive growth. Firms operate in inefficient environments, investment is hindered by slow and cumbersome municipal processes, and the lack of reliable spatial data undermines evidence-based planning. At the same time, limited municipal capacity to design and deliver complex catalytic projects reduces cities' ability to unlock meaningful socio-economic impact.

2.4. CSP Phase 3 responds to these challenges by strengthening the urban economic ecosystem through targeted Economic Development (ED) support. A central initiative within this portfolio is the Spatial Economic Activity Data: South Africa (SEAD-SA) project. SEAD-SA enables provinces and municipalities to access detailed economic insights for local planning and decision-making. It improves understanding of the geographic distribution and characteristics of economic activities within South Africa.

2.5. Spatial data is essential for designing targeted interventions that directly address South Africa's persistent spatial inequalities and the legacy of apartheid spatial planning. This spatial data can assist government with ensuring that public investments (whether in transport, infrastructure, housing, or economic development) are directed to the areas where they will have the most transformative impact. The SEAD-SA project aims to enable:

- Reduced costs and administrative burden. Access to shared, standardised, open-access administrative data reduces duplication, lowers the need to purchase data from third-party providers, and streamlines internal processes.
- More effective planning and resource allocation. Better data allows municipalities to identify real needs, target interventions accurately, and optimise the use of limited financial and human resources.
- Improved service delivery outcomes. Data-driven insights help municipalities design interventions that respond to actual demand patterns, leading to more reliable and efficient services for residents.
- Enhanced economic and investment planning. Spatialised data improves understanding of local economic dynamics, enabling better planning for investment zones, infrastructure prioritisation, and township economic development.
- Greater coherence across government and partners. Shared standards and aligned datasets improve collaboration between municipalities, national departments, and external partners, reducing fragmentation and inconsistent decision-making.

3. SPATIAL ECONOMIC ACTIVITY DATA SOUTH AFRICA (SEAD-SA) PROJECT OVERVIEW

3.1. At the reconvened City Economic Data Technical Working Group (TWG) meeting on 6 September 2019, cities reaffirmed the urgent need for spatialised economic data. Particularly, firm dynamics and the distribution of firms and jobs, to support evidence-based spatial planning, housing, transport, and infrastructure decisions. Current national data systems, including StatsSA outputs, do not provide annual establishment-level information, leading cities such as Johannesburg, eThekweni, and Cape Town to rely on their own surveys and administrative datasets, which remain limited and inconsistent.

3.2. Since 2015, the National Treasury and SARS (working with UNU-WIDER under the SA-TIED Programme) have made administrative tax data available for policy-relevant research, a major advance in making firm and employment tax data available for policy research. Geo-coding of this dataset has enabled linkage to municipal and census geographies, although resolving challenges such as address accuracy and the “head office effect” continues to be a work in progress.

3.3. SEAD-SA has made significant progress in delivering spatial economic data to municipalities and other stakeholders. In May 2021, the first set of metro-level spatialised economic data reports was released, offering time-series analysis from 2013–2018 and enabling cities to see trends in firm dynamics and employment at sub-municipal resolution for the first time. In June 2023, SEAD-SA was formally launched by the National Treasury and the Human Sciences Research Council (HSRC), unveiling the Spatial Tax platform and positioning the initiative as a national open-data resource covering all 8 metros and 205 local municipalities.

1 The STP is also widely used by researchers, generating additional knowledge that can be leveraged by local government (e.g., Job Accessibility and Spatial Equity in Cape Town, UNU-WIDER, 2023)

3.4. More recently, in 2024–2025, the underlying spatial tax panel was expanded to cover a full decade of data (2014–2024), now comprising nearly 200 datasets with multiple spatial aggregations (national, municipal, sub-municipal) and a wide set of economic indicators (from employment and firm counts to wage levels, industry composition, and export activity) enhancing geographic accuracy and analytical depth.

3.5. These milestones mark a transformative shift: from fragmented, private-sector– conducted surveys and imperfect administrative proxies, to an anonymised, nationally maintained, spatially granular data infrastructure; one that empowers municipalities, researchers, investors, and policy-makers to understand urban economies with unprecedented precision.

3.6. CSP intends to continue building on SEAD-SA, scaling it by incorporating additional datasets drawn from all departments participating in MzansiXchange. The ambitious aim is to gradually make all relevant administrative datasets accessible through SEAD-SA, in aggregated and anonymised form, thereby strengthening open-data access, intergovernmental coordination, and long-term institutional capacity for evidence-based urban economic planning.

Interested bidders are strongly encouraged to explore the SEAD-SA platform, the National Treasury Secure Data Facility (NT-SDF), and MzansiXchange, and to familiarise themselves with the various data projects, the work completed to date, and the overall strategic objectives and direction.

4. BACKGROUND TO THE TERMS OF REFERENCE

4.1 Context

4.1.1. The National Treasury's Cities Support Programme (CSP) seeks a qualified service provider to extract, analyse, and spatialise firm-level and employment data² housed within the National Treasury's Secure Data Facility (NT-SDF) to improve the quality and accessibility of economic intelligence available to South Africa's municipalities.

4.1.2. This includes working with new data extractions each year to update and enhance the Spatial Tax Panel, which involves updating scripts for quality assurance, adding new fields, and preparing the data for spatial aggregation. As well as producing detailed city-level analyses (supported by tables, maps, and trend insights) that cover, among other areas, firm distribution, employment patterns, sector performance, income bands, turnover, business registrations, export activity, and spatial clustering over the past five years.

4.1.3. The service provider will also be responsible for ensuring that the data on the SEAD-SA platform remains updated, accessible, and can be reasonably used and interpreted by municipalities and the public sector more broadly for effective planning, economic strategy, and policy decision-making. This will require continued data-cleaning and extraction processes, continuously addressing the "head office effect" in tax data, and designing analytical tools or scripts that make data held within the Secure Data Facility accessible to both high-capacity and lower-capacity municipalities.

4.1.4. Finally, the assignment includes preparing longer-term recommendations to strengthen the future use of spatialised economic data, covering improvements to geo-coding, mitigation of current data limitations, opportunities for extended analysis, and a proposed programme of administrative data releases.

4.1.5. The service provider will also be expected to engage with teams within the municipalities supported by CSP to understand their data needs and explore how the STP and other datasets housed in the NT-SDF can be leveraged to respond to them. Additionally, the service provider will be required to support sector-wide efforts to improve coherence, alignment, and standardisation in the generation and use of spatial economic data.

4.1.6. Some of the outputs will include briefing reports for each metro, continuous updates to general user guides and metadata for data products, and practical mechanisms for institutionalising this work within Treasury's data environment.

4.1.7. It is important to note that the NT-SDF is located at the National Treasury's Pretoria office and is only accessible in person. The successful bidder must ensure they are able to travel to the SDF, as and when required by the project.

4.2. Objectives

4.2.1. The objective of this assignment is to improve access to aggregated and anonymised administrative data, strengthen the quality and usability of spatial datasets, and build greater sector-wide coherence in how spatial data is managed and applied. By enhancing the availability of reliable, open-access administrative data, the assignment aims to reduce data acquisition costs for municipalities and expand their urban economic intelligence capabilities.

4.2.2. Overall, the focus is on enabling stronger data-led decision-making across the municipal sphere and its sector partners through targeted technical support delivered across five core workstreams. These workstreams collectively aim to:

- i. enhance the quality, coherence, and accessibility of spatial and economic datasets;
- ii. respond to data analysis needs across CSP components and the broader National Treasury to inform project design and implementation;
- iii. build organisational capacity for data management and evidence-based planning;
- iv. advance integration with the MzansiXchange data exchange for open-access products; and
- v. improve governance, coordination, and readiness across departments for long-term system adoption.

Together, these workstreams ensure a structured, scalable approach to strengthening metropolitan analytical capabilities and positioning the sector for sustained, data-driven decision-making.
